2 - 3:30 pm CT
3 - 4:30 pm ET

A computer security webinar for computer users, not IT staff.

Computer security is more than selecting the right password! In this eye-opening program, attendees will learn the tricks used to steal information by using social media, confidence games, and key loggers. Learn how people infiltrate your bank to obtain information from your computer systems. You may believe your password is hidden from view. You may think that shutting off your computer screen makes people believe you logged off the system. During this webinar you will be shown how passwords can be found and why your policies were written for your protection.

This program will provide best practices for accountholder safety, data breeches, and brute force attacks. This webinar is directed toward the everyday user, not the IT Department.

Continuing Education: Attendance verification for CE credits provided upon request.
